

All about the Berufsbildungswerk

The Annastift Berufsbildungswerk provides vocational trainings exclusive to young people with a physical handicap as well as to those who are learning-disabled, furthermore to those who are psychical-disabled. Therefore the employment agency (Agentur für Arbeit) is the competent authority and bears the costs. The rehabilitation adviser is the contact there.

Besides the trainings, in Annastift Berufsbildungswerk are pre-apprenticeship measures provided, too, which lead the participants to the chance to choose the vocational training which is just the right one for them. To participate in a measure the secondary school qualifications are not required.

In Annastift Berufsbildungswerk, every participant is accepted and counts with his whole personality. During his measure everybody is highly supported. An individual plan is made at the beginning and gives the basic to an optimal development.

To clear questions according to the measure in general or to individual problems as well as medical problems there are competent contacts. Participants who are needing car get it.

A driving school is regularly coming in. You can live in a single or a double room with Internet access or in a flat sharing group as a self-supplier.

Annastift Berufsbildungswerk's long-standing experience makes sure to provide a high level of knowledge and capabilities. Examinations have been successful, the participants are highly satisfied and many of them are getting jobs during the last period of their vocational rehabilitation or afterwards. Running projects offer additional qualifications, for example the ECDL (European Computer Driving Licence).

The vocational trainings take place in modern rooms and workshops and moreover in close cooperation with companies in Hannover and its region.

In Annastift Berufsbildungswerk there is a special department "Integration". Dedicated employees supply the participants in getting a job as soon as possible.

The Annastift Berufsbildungswerk has a long tradition with the more than 100 years old Annastift itself. The Berufsbildungswerk is situated in the near of the Hannover Fair where even two departments of the vocational rehabilitation are placed: a Service Centre and an Online Training – both part of the office-training.

Hannover can be called a very forward-looking and developing area where the job market is increasing.

If you are interested please contact your employment agency. We would be pleased, too, to give you further information.
